CENSUS OF IRELAND FOR THE YEAR 1861.

GENERAL REPORT.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY GEORGE WILLIAM FREDERICK, EARL OF CARLISLE, K.G.,
LORD LIEUTENANT GENERAL AND GENERAL GOVERNOR OF IRELAND,
&c., &c., &c.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,

General Report.

WE, the Commissioners appointed to take an account of the Population of Ireland, under the provisions of the Act 23 and 24 Vic., cap. 62, have the honour of submitting for your Excellency's consideration this our General Report, which concludes the publications for the Census of 1861.

Description of the Tables

The Report gives, in a series of Tables arranged for provinces, counties, baronies, parishes, towns, and parliamentary boroughs, the area, population, and also the number of houses in four classes; the families residing in them, with their pursuits, and the means upon which they were dependent;—also the religious professions, and education of the inhabitants. The number of families living in each house, and the amount of their accommodation are shown by counties in rural and civic districts. The birthplaces of the people; their condition as to marriage; and their occupations are shown for each county; and in the Report itself will be found tabular summaries of the matter contained in the volumes on Vital Statistics.

Information on the various subjects inquired into, is therefore given in this volume.

Preparations for taking the Census

Preparations for the Census were commenced in October, 1860, under circumstances of unusual interest, as it was the first time that a decennial Census embraced within its scope inquiries respecting the religious professions of the people. The Irish Census Acts for 1841 and 1851 (3 & 4 Vic., cap. 100, and 13 & 14 Vic., cap. 44) specially directed that no inquiry should be made touching the religion of any person: and as regards the Census of England and Wales, and of Scotland for 1861, it was forbidden by the 23 & 24 Vic. cap. 61, and the 23 & 24 Vic., cap. 98, that information upon this point should be sought.

As soon as the several Forms were approved of by the Government, and special Instructions for the guidance of the persons to be employed were drawn up, the country was divided into districts and sub-districts, for the purposes of the enumeration; and the various Forms and requisites for taking the Census were furnished to the Enumerators.

By the 23 & 24 Vic., cap. 62, the Constabulary and Metropolitan Police were directed to be employed, and, in consequence, the Constabulary districts were adopted for the enumeration, as being most convenient for the effective discharge of the duty. The Superintendents' districts amounted to 267, and the Enumerators' districts to 5,269. Of these, 261 chief districts and 5,096 enumeration or sub-districts were intrusted to the Constabulary, who in the Shipping Census were assisted by 15 men of the Coast Guard service. The city of Dublin and its suburbs were divided into 6 chief and 173 enumeration districts, and confided to the Metropolitan Police.

Enumerators in 1841 and in 1851

In 1841, and also in 1851, the Census was taken by the Constabulary and Metropolitan Police, with the aid, however, in some districts, of civilians engaged for the occasion. In 1861 it was not found necessary to call in such assistance, as a sufficient staff of Constabulary and Police enumerators, was placed by your Excellency at our disposal.

Circulars to Superintendents.

In February, 1861, circulars were sent to the officers of Constabulary who were to act as Superintendents, enclosing copies of the Census Act, in order that they might make themselves acquainted with its provisions; and also requiring them to state the number of

POPULATION TABLES.

This shows a decrease between 1841 and 1851 of 1,622,319 persons; between 1851 and 1861, of 775,311; and between 1841 and 1861, of 2,397,630.

Table II. gives, by provinces, counties, and towns, the number of persons in 1841, 1851, and 1861, in rural and civic districts, including the military in Ireland at each of these periods.

Proportionate increase or decrease between 1841, 1851, and 1861.

Between 1841 and 1851 the population decreased about one-fifth—19·79 persons in every 100; from 1851 to 1861 the diminution continued, and in the decade amounted to 11·79 per cent. During the two decennial periods the population diminished by 29·25 per cent., the relative decrease being greatest in the provinces of Munster and Connaught, and least in those of Leinster and Ulster. In Table III., page xi., will be found the proportion per cent. of the increase or decrease of the inhabitants, by provinces, counties, cities, and towns.

In 1841 the population to the square mile was 251, in 1851 it fell to 202, and in 1861 to 178, thus showing a diminution between 1841 and 1861 of 73 persons to the square mile. Population to the square mile.

Dublin and Antrim are the only counties in which the population to the square mile did not decrease between 1851 and 1861, the increase in each of these counties being 14 persons to the square mile.

Table IV. gives the number of persons to the square mile in 1841, 1851, and 1861.

* The increase in the county of Antrim, including Belfast, between 1851 and 1861 amounted to 14; and between 1841 and 1861 to 7 persons to the square mile.

† The increase in the county of Dublin (Dublin City included), between 1841 and 1851 was 91; between 1851 and 1861 it was 14; and between 1841 and 1861 it was 105 persons to the square mile.

POPULATION TABLES.

Decrease in the Number to the square mile.

The greatest decrease between 1851 and 1861 occurred in the province of Munster; the least in Ulster. The counties which exhibited the greatest decrease were Louth, which lost 54 to the square mile; Tipperary, 50; Kilkenny, 43; Limerick, 42; Waterford, 41; Wexford, 40; and Cork, Clare, Meath, Carlow, Queen's, and Monaghan, from 30 to 40 each. Those which declined least were Sligo, which lost only 5 persons to the square mile; Kildare, 7; Mayo and Donegal, 10 each; Londonderry, 11; Armagh and Leitrim, 12 each; Tyrone and Fermanagh, 14 each; Roscommon and Wicklow, 16 each; and the remaining counties —viz., Cavan, Down, Galway, Kerry, King's, Longford, and Westmeath, from 20 to 30 each.

Number to the square mile in Rural and Civic Districts.

Dividing the country into rural and civic districts,—the latter representing the area covered by towns containing 2,000 inhabitants and upwards,—we find that in 1841 the number of persons to the square mile in the civic districts was 17,049; in 1851, 17,221; and in 1861, 14,823. In the rural portions of the country the proportions to the square mile were—in 1841, 217; in 1851, 164; and in 1861, 144.

The variation in the population to the square mile between 1851 and 1861 in the civic districts, was chiefly owing to an extension of the boundary of the town of Belfast, and of the civic district of the County of Dublin. The population of the rural districts declined generally between 1841 and 1861 to the extent of 73, and between 1851 and 1861, of 20 persons to the square mile.

The following Table gives the extent of arable land in each county and province in 1841, 1851, and 1861, and the number of persons to the square mile of arable land in the rural districts:—

TABLE V.—Showing, by Provinces and Counties, in 1841, 1851, and 1861, the Extent of Arable Land in Square Miles, the Population of the Rural Districts, and the Number of Persons to the Square Mile of Arable Land, and to the Square Mile of the Total Area, exclusive of the Civic Districts.

* Increase of 4 to the square mile.

Population Tables.

Number of persons to the square mile in Ireland and in Great Britain.

From the Table given at page 104 of the General Report on the Census of England and Wales for 1861, it appears that of the entire population—(20,066,224)—10,960,998, or more than one-half, resided in towns containing upwards of 1,000 inhabitants—whilst 9,105,226 lived in smaller towns and villages, and in rural districts; giving a population to the square mile in towns, of 3,665 persons, and in the country, of 165.

The number in the country districts of England and Wales—excluding all towns containing 1,000 inhabitants and upwards—was 165 to the square mile, compared with 139 to the square mile in similar districts in Ireland; whilst for the entire area of Scotland, rural and civic, the number was 99·7 persons to the square mile. We are unable to give the relative number to the square mile in the rural and civic districts separately, as the areas of the towns are not given in the Scotch Census Reports.

Population Maps.

We beg to refer to Plate I. (Population), by which is shown in degrees of shading the number of inhabitants to the square mile, in the rural districts of Ireland, according to the Censuses of 1841, 1851, and 1861.

Decrease by Emigration.

The causes which led to the diminution of the population between 1851 and 1861 were, happily, not of the twofold character to which the decrease was to be attributed between 1841 and 1851. In the latter decade it may be said to have been entirely owing to the great mortality and emigration which originated with the famine consequent upon the failure of the potato crop for several years, commencing with 1845. The diminution between 1851 and 1861 may be said to have been directly due to emigration, no fatal epidemic, we are happy to state, having prevailed during that period.

The total number of Irish who left the United Kingdom between 1841 and 1851 was, by the Reports of the Emigration Commissioners, 1,240,737; whilst the number who emigrated from Irish ports during the period from 1st April, 1851, to 7th April, 1861, according to the returns obtained by the Registrar-General, was 1,208,350.

The following are the number of emigrants who left this country in each year between 1851 and 1861 :—

Had emigration and immigration been equal between 1851 and 1861, and the excess of births over deaths—or the natural increase of population—on an average, equal to that of England and Wales, the number of inhabitants, on the 7th April, 1861, would have been 7,241,758, as shown in the following Table,—which has been computed on the basis of a similar Table given at page xvi. of the Census Report of 1851 :—

periods, the number in every 100 males and females in 1841, 1851, and 1861 respectively, under the several ages.

Of males 2·46 in every 100 were under 1 year old; 9·97 were 1 and under 5; 10·92, were 5 and under 10; 10·79, 10 and under 15; and 11·62, 15 and under 20; thus under 20 years of age, 45·76 per cent. of the male population were to be found in 1861. In 1851 the proportion was 50·12, and in 1841, 50·27. In England and Wales the proportion at the same age-period was, in 1861, 46·50 per cent.; and in Scotland 49·10; thus showing for Ireland a smaller relative number of males under 20, at the time of taking the Census in 1861, than were in England and Wales, or Scotland.

In the age-period, 20 to 60, the proportion of males in 1841 was 43·45 per cent. of the male population; in 1851 it was 43·27; and in 1861, 45·34. In England and Wales the proportion per cent. in 1861 was 46·46; and in Scotland, 43·83.

The proportion per cent. of males 60 years old and upwards, according to the Census of 1841, was 6·28; in 1851 it was 6·61; and in 1861, 8·90. In England and Wales the proportion per cent. in 1861 was 7·04; and in Scotland, 7·07.

Of females in Ireland in 1861, 2·27 in every 100 were under 1 year old; 9·27, 1 and under 5; 10·19, 5 and under 10; 9·83, 10 and under 15; and 11·60, 15 and under 20; thus showing that of the female population 43·16 per cent. were under 20 years of age. In 1851 the proportion was 46·63, and in 1841, 47·94. In England and Wales, the proportion was, in 1861, 44·09 per cent.; and in Scotland, 43·33.

Population Tables.

In the age-period, 20 to 60, the proportion of females in 1841 was 45·42 per cent. of the female population; in 1851 it was 45·70; and in 1861, 47·10. In England and Wales the proportion per cent. in 1861 was 48·14; in Scotland it was 47·91.

Proportion of the sexes at each age.

The proportion of females in Ireland aged 60 years and upwards, in 1841, was 6·64 per cent. of the entire female population; in 1851 the proportion was 7·67 per cent.; and in 1861 it was 9·74. In England and Wales the proportion per cent., in 1861, was 7·77, and in Scotland, 8·76.

In the earlier periods of life—under 15 years old—the males outnumbered the females in the proportion living at each age; between 15 and 20 the proportion becomes nearly equal, after which it gradually increases as regards females throughout the quinquennial periods until the end of life, with the exception of the ages 55–60 and 75–80.

Families, Visitors, and Servants.

We now come to the consideration of the population divided as heads of families and their children, visitors, and servants.

According to the instructions given to the Enumerators, a family was defined to be—

1. "A man and his wife, or man, wife, and children, living together, and having no other persons residing with them.
2. "A family such as the above, with their servants and visitors residing with them.

POPULATION TABLES.

Families, Visitors, and Servants.

The total number of persons returned as heads of families with their children, amounted to 4,741,214, of whom 2,351,591 were males and 2,389,623 females. Residing with these were 658,696 visitors, of whom 301,436 were males and 357,260 females. The servants numbered 399,057 persons, of whom 184,343 were males and 214,714 females.

The proportion per cent. of heads of families and their children to the population was, in 1861, 82·9 males and 80·7 females. Combinedly, 82 persons in every 100 were returned as heads of families with their children. The proportion in 1841 was 81, and in 1851, 82·4 per cent.

The proportion of male visitors was 10·6 and of female 12·1 per cent. Combining the sexes the proportion was 11·3 per cent. The proportion of servants was 6·9. There was a slight increase in the proportion of visitors in 1861. Male servants were in the proportion of 6·5 and females of 7·2 per cent., being a diminution in 1861 compared with 1851 in this class.

Proportion of males to females.

The number of males in 100 persons was 48·9 in 1861, 48·7 in 1851, and 49·2 in 1841. Of females to every 100 persons there were 51·1 in 1861, 51·3 in 1851, and 50·8 in 1841—thus showing but little variation in the relative numbers at these periods. The number of males to 100 females in 1861 was 95·8; in 1851, 94·9; and in 1841, 96·7. Thus in 1861 the proportion was higher than in 1851, although it did not reach that of 1841. This is remarkable, as it might have been expected from the great emigration since 1846, that the male population had left the country in numbers sufficiently large to seriously disturb the proportion of males to females; it would, however, appear that the sexes emigrated in nearly equal numbers.

The number of males to every 100 females in the rural and civic districts respectively in 1841, 1851, and 1861, was as follows :—

Rural,	1841,	98·9 Males to 100 Females.	Civic,	1841,	84·4 Males to 100 Females.
	1851,	98·3 „		1851,	85·3 „
	1861,	98·3 „		1861,	87·4 „

In England and Wales the number of males to 100 females was 95·008 in 1861; whilst in 1851 it was 96·008. In Scotland the proportion was 90·9 males to 100 females in 1851, and 89·9 in 1861.

Table VIII., page xv, shows, by provinces, the proportion per cent. of heads of families, visitors, and servants, also of males and females, to 100 persons, in 1841, 1851, and 1861.

Table IX., page xvi, shows, by provinces, counties, and towns, the number of inmates of Public Institutions in 1851 and 1861—also the proportion per cent. which they bear to the total population in each of these years.

Inmates of Public Institutions.

The total number of inmates of Public Institutions on the night of the Census was 64,619—equal to about 1 for every 100 of the population of the country. In 1851 there were 279,166, or about 4·3 per cent. of the people, in Public Institutions. In these years there were, according to the returns :—

	In 1851.	In 1861.	Decrease in 1861.
In Workhouses, ...	249,877	49,994	199,883
In Gaols, ...	15,898	4,217	11,681
In Hospitals and Sanitary Institutions,	13,391	10,408	2,983

The greatest diminution in the number of inmates of Public Institutions was in the province of Munster, where the decrease was from 7·8 per cent. in 1851 to 1·5 in 1861, Connaught was next in the order of decrease, the proportion being 4·3 in 1851 and 0·7 in 1861. Leinster followed, having 3·8 per cent. of its population in Public Institutions in 1851 and 1·6 in 1861. The like population in Ulster lessened from 1·4 in 1851 to 0·7 in 1861. Contrasting the counties, cities, and towns, it is satisfactory to observe the diminished relative number in 1861, as compared with 1851. The following are a few of the most remarkable instances :—

	Proportion per cent. of inmates of Public Institutions to the Population.		Decrease in 1861.		Proportion per cent. of inmates of Public Institutions to the Population.		Decrease in 1861.

HOUSES AND HOUSE ACCOMMODATION.

Definition of "House," and particulars included in the Return.

The Enumerators were instructed to consider every dwelling with a distinct outer door, inhabited by one or more families, as a separate house; and they were required to state (on Form B) whether the walls were of mud, stone, or brick; the roof of slates, tiles, thatch, or other material; the number of stories, the number of rooms, the number of windows in front, and the total of outside windows; the number of distinct families in the house, and the name of the head of each family. Uninhabited houses and those in course of building were also enumerated; and private dwellings were distinguished from public edifices.

Classification of Houses.

From this information the houses were classified under four divisions, as in 1841 and 1851. We have thus the means of comparing the number of houses in the several classes in 1861 with those returned at the time of the two previous enumerations, and the number of families residing in each class.

The classification by the Census Commissioners in 1841 was described as follows:—

"The value or condition of a house, as to the accommodation it affords, may be considered to depend mainly on—1st, its extent, as shown by the number of rooms; 2nd, its quality, as shown by the number of its windows; and 3rd, its solidity or durability, as shown by the material of its walls and roof. If numbers be adopted to express the position of every house in a scale of each of these elements, and if the numbers thus obtained for every house be added together, we shall have a new series of numbers, giving the position of the house in a scale compounded of all the elements, i.e., their actual state. We adopted four classes, and the result was, that in the lowest, or fourth class, were comprised all mud cabins having only one room; in the third, a better description of cottage, still built of mud, but varying from two to four rooms and windows; in the second, a good farm-house, or in towns, a house in a small street, having from five to nine rooms and windows; and in the first, all houses of a better description than the preceding classes."

Number of Houses by classes.

The inhabited houses in 1861 amounted to 995,156; being a decrease between 1851 and 1861 of 51,067, and of 333,683 between 1841 and 1861. There were 55,416 first-class houses in 1861 compared with 50,164 in 1851, and 40,080 in 1841—an increase between 1851 and 1861 of 5,252, and of 15,336 between 1841 and 1861. Every province shows an increase between 1841 and 1861 in the number of first-class dwellings. The largest number built in the period was in Ulster, in which 5,949 were erected; in Leinster there were 5,187, in Munster 2,927, and in Connaught 1,273.

Second-class houses numbered 360,698 in 1861, being an increase of 96,514 between 1841 and 1861. The largest addition to this class was in Ulster, in which there were 45,305 houses of the second-class built during the period mentioned. In Munster the increase amounted to 20,627, in Leinster to 16,891, and in Connaught to 13,691. Third-class dwellings numbered 489,668 in 1861. Between 1841 and 1851 this class increased by 8,415; but between 1841 and 1861 it decreased by 43,629. The only province in which an addition appears to have been made to the third-class houses from 1841 to 1861 is Connaught, which exhibits an increase of 5,168. The decrease in houses of the fourth, or lowest class, consisting of mud, sod, or stone cabins containing only one room, was very large between 1841 and 1861. In the former year the number under this head was 491,278, in the latter 89,374—being a diminution of 401,904 in the period. The great amount of this reduction took place between 1841 and 1851—355,689 fourth-class dwellings having disappeared in the course of the decade. The decrease in houses of the third and fourth classes and the increase in those of the first and second seem to extend almost uniformly throughout the provinces, with the exception of Connaught, in which the third-class houses continue to show an increase between 1841 and 1861, although they decreased in the decade from 1851 to 1861 by 4,717. Table X., page xix, gives the number of houses, by provinces, in classes, in 1841, 1851, and 1861, and the increase or decrease in each class for each year.

Uninhabited Houses, built and building.

The number of houses uninhabited, and those in course of building, in 1861, compared with those in 1841 and 1851, were as under:—

		1841.	1851.	1861.
Uninhabited Houses,	Built, . . .	52,208	65,263	40,957
	Building, . . .	3,313	1,868	2,920
	Total, . . .	55,521	67,131	43,877

Thus, comparing the Returns for 1851 with those for 1861, there were 24,306 uninhabited houses less, and 1,052 more, in process of erection in 1861.

Relative number of Houses in each class.

Of the total number of houses in Ireland in 1861, 5·6 in every 100 were of the FIRST-CLASS, compared with 4·8 in 1851 and 3·0 in 1841—an increase of 2·6 since 1841; 36·2 per cent. were of the SECOND-CLASS in 1861, 30·5 in 1851, and 19·9 in 1841—giving an addition since the last-mentioned year of 16·3 per cent. under this head. 49·2 per cent. of the houses were of the THIRD-CLASS in 1861, 51·8 in 1851, and 40·1 in 1841—showing an increase in the proportion between 1841 and 1861 of 9·1 per cent., and a decrease from 1851 to 1861 of 2·6 per cent. The FOURTH-CLASS houses—or cabins containing only one room—amounted to 9 in every 100 houses; the proportion having decreased from 1851 to 1861 by 3·9, and from 1841 to 1861 by 28 per cent. Built uninhabited houses were nearly in the same proportion in 1861 as in 1841; but between 1851 and 1861 the relative numbers diminished by 1·9 per cent. The proportion of houses in course of erection was something higher in 1861 than in 1841 and 1851.

Table XI., page xx, gives, by provinces and counties, in classes, the proportion per cent. of houses in 1841, 1851, and 1861.

Number of Families in each House.

The number of families residing in each house being known, means were afforded of ascertaining the amount or degree of accommodation enjoyed by each family, whether resident in a first, second, third, or fourth-class dwelling. The classification used by the Commissioners for 1841 and 1851 was that which we employed in 1861. According to it, "first-class accommodation consists of first-class houses, each containing 1 family; second-class accommodation consists of second-class houses, each containing 1 family, and of first-class houses, each containing 2 or 3 families; third-class accommodation consists of third-class houses, each containing 1 family, of second-class houses, each containing 2 or 3 families, and of first-class houses, each containing 4 or 5 families; fourth-class accommodation consists of all fourth-class houses—all third-class houses containing more than 1 family, all second-class houses containing more than 3 families, and all first-class houses containing more than 5 families."

The total number of families in Ireland, was—

HOUSES AND HOUSE ACCOMMODATION.

The average number of persons to a family decreased between 1841 and 1851, and again between 1851 and 1861; so that, even had there been no alteration in the proportionate number of families in a house, the diminution of the number in family would permit of better house-accommodation in 1861 than in 1841 or 1851. Combined, however, with the decrease of the average number in each family, there is an improvement in respect of house-accommodation between 1841 and 1861, which may be considered satisfactory.

The number of families in each class of accommodation, as above defined, in 1841, 1851, and 1861, was as under :—

Classes of House-accommodation.

Class of House-Accommodation.	1841. Number of Families.	1851. Number of Families.	1861. Number of Families.

Table XII., page xxi, gives, by provinces, counties, and towns, the proportion per cent. of families residing in each class of house in 1841, 1851, and 1861; also, the average number of persons to a family.

Although residing in a first-class house a family may not have first-class accommodation; and the tables which we give upon this subject show that in 1861 while 8·2 per cent. of the families in Ireland dwelt in houses of the first class, only 3·9 per cent. enjoyed first-class accommodation. In second-class dwellings there resided 37·7 in every 100 families, but only 29·6 per cent. had accommodation of the second class. There lived in third-class houses 45·8 per cent. of the total number of families in Ireland; but the per-centage of those who, dwelling in whatever class of house, had only third-class accommodation, amounted to 49·0, and amongst them a per-centage of 7·7 lived in first or second-class houses. In the fourth or lowest class of houses 8·3 per cent. of the families dwelt; but in all the classes taken together there were 17·5 families in every 100 which had fourth-class accommodation, leaving 9·2 per cent. as living in first, second, and third-class houses with fourth-class accommodation.

House Accommodation Maps.

The improvement in respect to house accommodation in Ireland since 1841 is strikingly exhibited by the shaded Maps given in Plate III.

Population living in Ships and Boats.

The population residing in ships and boats lying in Irish waters, at the period of the Census, was enumerated upon Forms issued by the English and also by the Irish Commissioners, as previous to the issue of the Census Forms for Ireland, it had been arranged by the Secretary for the Home Department that the Shipping Census for the United Kingdom should be conducted by the English Commission—the Returns for each country to be sent to the proper Office in London, Dublin, and Edinburgh.

This double enumeration in Ireland was caused by the circumstance that the religious profession and state of education of the people formed a part of the inquiries directed by the Census Act (23 and 24 Vic., cap. 62), for this country, but these were not to be ascertained under the Census Act (23 and 24 Vic., cap. 61), for England; it therefore became necessary to issue special Forms for Ireland, upon which the religious professions and education of the Officers and Men in the Royal Navy, Merchant and other ships and boats in Irish ports and inland waters should be stated, and a Circular (see page cxxxviii.) upon the subject was accordingly forwarded to the several Superintendents.

Both Returns were transmitted to this office; and, on being compared, it was found that the Returns for some ships were made on English Forms only, for others on Irish only, and for several on both English and Irish Forms. The enumeration on both Forms may be considered complete as regards the actual numbers of the population living in ships and boats; but the English Forms were defective, in omitting to state the religious profession and education.

On the whole, it appeared that there were 10,937 persons living in ships, vessels, and boats in Irish waters at the date of the Census, of whom 1,174 belonged to the Royal Navy, and 9,763 to Merchant and other Vessels.

The subject is here referred to, in order that, by timely arrangements on the part of the authorities prior to the decennial Census in 1871, the necessity, as on the late occasion, for a double enumeration may be avoided.

Proportion of Families residing in each class of House.

Of the entire number of families in 1861, 3·3 per cent. resided in first-class houses in the rural districts and 25·8 per cent. in the civic, being an increase on the total of 3·6 per cent. upon the proportion so resident in 1841, and of 1·1 per cent. in 1851. In second-class houses there lived 33 per cent. in the rural and 54·2 in the civic districts—being an increase on the whole of 15·9 per cent. in 1841, and of 5·6 per cent. in 1851. Of families living in third-class houses there was a decrease, the rate being 53·5 per cent.

Houses and House Accommodation.

in the rural and 18·3 per cent. in the civic districts, showing a falling off between 1851 and 1861 of 2·8 per cent. The fourth-class shows a large reduction in both country and town districts—the proportion of families residing in that class having fallen from 39·7 in 1841 to 10·2 in 1861 in the rural, and from 10·7 to 1·7 in the civic districts. The average number of persons to a family is larger in the country than in the towns, the figures being 5·24 in the former, and 4·53 in the latter. In the provinces Munster had the largest average to a family—5·32; Connaught follows with 5·26, then Ulster with 5·07, and Leinster with 4·97. The County of Kildare had the largest average in Ireland—5·72 persons to each family. Louth was lowest in this respect, the number being 4·89. There were only 4 other counties which had an average of under 5 to a family—viz., Wexford and Armagh, 4·97 each; Down, 4·92; and Monaghan, 4·94. All the cities and towns were below 5 in the average, caused probably by the number of single persons living in lodgings, who were regarded as constituting a family for the purposes of the Census.

Occupations.

Families according to their pursuits.

In 1861 there were 42·6 in every 100 families chiefly employed in agriculture—being a reduction in the proportion of 10 per cent. since 1851 and of 23·5 since 1841. In manufactures, trades, &c., there was also a reduction from 24·7 in 1851 and 23·9 in 1841 to 17·5 per cent. in 1861. In other pursuits the proportion increased from 10 per cent. in 1841 and 22·7 in 1851 to 39·9 in 1861. But these changes may be said to have arisen from the emigration of persons employed in agriculture or trade, who in the Census of 1841 and 1851 were classed in these divisions; thus raising the proportion of families which remained in the country who were engaged in other pursuits. The condition of the people is more satisfactorily exhibited in considering the means upon which they are dependent—as shown in Table XIII., page xxiii. Thus, in 1861 there were chiefly dependent on vested means, professions, &c., 8·9 per cent. of the families—an increase from 2·6 in 1841 and from 7 per cent. in 1851. Engaged in the direction of labour there were 45·1 per cent. in 1861, compared with 34·4 in 1851 and 31·8 in 1841. There were living by their own manual labour in 1861, 35·3 per cent. of families; whilst in 1851 the rate was 52, and in 1841 62·9 per cent. Those whose means of subsistence were not specified, and many of whom probably should be included with those having vested means, amounted to 10·7 per cent.; the proportion in 1841 having been only 2·7, and in 1851 6·6 per cent.

According to their means of subsistence.

Occupations of persons.

Of the entire population, 2,705,665, or 46·66 per cent., were returned in the family schedules as having some occupation or pursuit; and 3,093,302, or 53·34 per cent., had no specified occupations. This latter number includes 1,770,714 persons (890,904 males and 879,810 females) under 15—the age at which employment might be expected to commence. Above that age those having no specified occupations amounted to 1,322,588, of whom 101,673 were males and 1,220,915 females. A classification, upon similar principles to that adopted in 1841 and 1851 has been used in the occupation tables for 1861, but it was found desirable to extend the classes by the addition of 4 divisions—viz., those "ministering to conveyance and travelling," "banking and agency," "amusement," and "science and art." According to our classification, 1,053,045 persons, or 18·16 per cent. of the entire population, were engaged in occupations placed under the head of ministering to food; of these 945,615 were males and 107,430 females. 490,492 persons, or 8·46 per cent. of the people, ranged under employments ministering to clothing, of whom 150,856 were males and 339,636 females. Ministering to lodging, furniture, and machinery were 463,562 persons; to conveyance and travelling, 68,791; to banking and agency, 4,568; to literature and education, 40,853; to religion 10,627; to charity and benevolence, 983; to health, 6,735; to justice and government, 55,085; to amusement, 2,840; to science and art, 757; and under unclassified occupations, which could not be properly placed under any of the above heads, were 507,327 persons. Table XIV., page xxv, gives, by provinces, the number of persons included under each class of occupations in 1861. The number under each occupation is given by counties at the end of each province, and the General Tables of Occupations by Religions, and by Ages in quinquennial periods, accompany the summary tables for all Ireland.—(See Report on Religious Professions and Occupations, Part IV., page 683.)

Classification of occupations.

Proportion under each class.

The classes in which females outnumbered the males were—ministering to "clothing—and to lodging, furniture, and machinery;" and this predominance appears in the tables for every province. The per-centage of the population classed as ministering to food was greatest in Connaught and Munster, and least in Leinster and Ulster. Ministering to clothing was as high as 15·21 per cent. in Ulster—the seat of the linen trade; whilst it was only 4·23 per cent. in Connaught, 4·70 in Munster, and 6·15 per cent. in Leinster. Under lodging, furniture, and machinery the proportion ranged highest in Leinster and Munster, and lowest in Ulster and Connaught. The per-centages under the several classes are shown in Table XV., page xxv, by provinces.

Classification adopted

The classification of occupations in the Census Tables of Great Britain for 1851 and 1861, differs from that employed by the Commissioners in Ireland, and at the meeting of the International Statistical Congress in London in 1860, the late Prince Consort, in the course of the inaugural address delivered by His Royal Highness, remarked, that "the Census of Great Britain and Ireland was not taken on precisely the same plan in essential particulars, thereby diminishing its value for general purposes." This observation was brought under the notice of the Home Secretary by the Registrar-General for England, and communicated to your Excellency by directions of Sir George Grey, with a view to secure such uniformity in the published results as would enable a comparison to be made, respecting essential particulars, between the Census statistics of Great Britain and those of Ireland. On consideration of the subject, by the directions of your Excellency, we found it expedient to continue the classification of occupations in Ireland as adopted by the Commissioners in 1841 and 1851; but in order to admit of a comparison of the occupations of the people in this country with those of Great Britain, grouped as in the Census of 1861, we have prepared Occupation Tables for Ireland, classed accord-in Census of Great Britain.

Uniformity in Classification recommended.

Occupations.

ing to the system adopted by the Commissioners for England and Wales, and Scotland. These will be seen on reference to the Appendix, Tables II. and III., pages lviii and lx.

Classification used in the Census Tables for Great Britain.

According to the system used by the Commissioners in England and Scotland, the occupations were classified as under:—

Class I. Professional—Consisting of persons engaged in the government or defence of the country, or engaged in the learned professions, literature, art, and science.

II. Domestic—Comprising persons engaged in the domestic offices or duties of wives, mothers, mistresses of families, children, relatives (not otherwise returned), and persons engaged in entertaining and performing personal offices for man.

III. Commercial—Those who buy or sell, keep or lend money, houses, or goods; and persons engaged in the conveyance of men, animals, goods, and messages.

IV. Agricultural—Persons possessing or working land, and engaged in growing fruits, grasses, animals, and other products; and persons employed about animals.

V. Industrial—Persons engaged in art and mechanic productions, in which matters of various kinds are employed in combination; and persons working and dealing in textile fabrics, dress, food, and drinks, animal or vegetable substances, or in minerals.

VI. Indefinite and Non-productive—Including labourers and others not otherwise defined, persons of rank or property not returned under any office or occupation, and persons supported by the community and of no specified occupation.

Irish Occupations grouped according to the English classification.

The following is a summary of the classification, showing the number employed under each group in Ireland:—

Classes.	Persons.	Males.	Females.
I. Professional,	96,613	83,150	13,463
II. Domestic,	3,075,324	1,007,079	2,068,245
III. Commercial,	120,576	95,116	25,460
IV. Agricultural,	988,929	904,748	84,181
V. Industrial,	667,172	325,323	341,849
VI. Indefinite and Non-productive,	468,192	384,590	83,602
Total,	5,416,806	2,800,006	2,616,800
Persons of no stated Rank, Profession, or Occupation,	382,161	37,364	344,797
Total Population,	5,798,967	2,837,370	2,961,597

Comparing the relative numbers under each class in Ireland with those given for England and Wales, and Scotland, the following are the per-centages:—

Classes.	Rate per Cent.
	England and Wales.	Scotland.	Ireland.
I. Professional,	2·4	1·7	1·8
II. Domestic,	57·4	57·0	56·8
III. Commercial,	3·1	2·8	2·2
IV. Agricultural,	10·1	12·5	18·3
V. Industrial,	24·3	22·8	12·3
VI. Indefinite and Non-productive,	2·7	3·2	8·6
	100·0	100·0	100·0

In England and Wales the proportion returned as having no stated rank, profession, or occupation, was 0·8 per cent.; in Scotland it was 0·7; and in Ireland 6·6 per cent.; —the comparatively large number in this country being chiefly made up of unemployed females. The principles upon which the foregoing classification is based, are described by Dr. Farr in the General Report, vol. III., of the English Commissioners for 1861.

Religious Professions.

The religious professions having been made the subject of a special Report (Part IV.), we shall only give here two Tables, XVI., page xxvii, and XVII., page xxviii, which contain a summary by counties showing the number belonging to each denomination, and the proportion per cent. of the several religious professions to the entire population.

Education.

The education of the people, as regards the number of persons (distinguishing the sexes) under each age who could "read and write," "read only," and "neither read nor write," and their religious professions, are treated of in detail in Parts II. and IV. of our Reports. In the present publication the number of males and females, five years old and upwards, under each of the degrees of education specified above, is given for each parish and town. The comparative results for 1841, 1851, and 1861, are given by counties and provinces in Tables XVIII., page xxix, and XIX., page xxx.

EDUCATION.

Attendance at Schools.

We ascertained in four ways the number in attendance at school—through the school forms—for a week, a day, and a year; and through the family schedules—in which each child attending school was entered for the day on which the Census was taken. The result of the first of these returns showed that on the week ended 13th April, 1861, there were under instruction, in schools and colleges, 436,873 pupils, of whom 235,119 were males, and 201,754 females. Of the total number, 414,516 were receiving primary instruction in schools connected with the National Board of Education, or the Church Education Society, in parochial Schools, in the Christian Brothers and other Roman Catholic communities, in schools under other Societies and Boards, and finally, in orphanages, and private schools. Attending superior schools—those being so classed in which a foreign language was taught,—were 20,819 persons; of whom 12,785 were males, and 8,034 females. The number in colleges was 1,538 males. Table XX., page xxxi, gives by provinces the number and sexes of pupils attending the several classes of places of instruction, and the proportion per cent. of persons under instruction to the population.

Primary schools.

Superior schools.

Attendance at Schools and Colleges.

On the 17th day of May, 1861, there were 466,818 persons at places of instruction, of whom 443,433 were in primary schools; 21,674 in superior schools, and 1,711 in colleges. The number of primary schools from which returns were received was 9,428, of superior schools 729, and of collegiate institutions 13, making in all 10,170 educational establishments. The number of schools open and pupils in attendance therein on the 17th of May, 1861, are shown by provinces in Table XXI., page xxxi.

During one year ending 31st March, 1861.

The school returns received by us, which purported to give an account of the number of days during an entire year each pupil was in attendance, showed that there were in the several places of education throughout Ireland from which information was obtained, 804,974 individual pupils in attendance for a greater or lesser number of days in the year,—a number which would doubtless have been larger had the forms been filled for all the schools in Ireland. From various causes, however, the chief of which was the absence of proper school registers—we were unable to procure the return of annual attendance in several instances. Table XXII., page xxxii, gives the result of this inquiry.

The attendance was as under, according to the classification adopted in our Tables:—

According to the Family Returns.

There were returned as attending school at the period of the Census in 1861, on the forms received from each family, 645,695. The corresponding number in 1851 was 705,990, the proportion to the population being 10·8 in every 100 persons in 1851, and 11·1 in 1861.

Table XXIV., page xxxiv, shows the attendance at school, according to the Family Returns and the Special School Forms, in 1851 and 1861, also for the year ended 31st March and for the 17th day of May, 1861.

Combining the results, the four different forms in which the school Census was taken, we have, perhaps, a better standard than any heretofore available whereby to measure the number under instruction, and the value of such instruction, taking into account the number of days the pupils were in attendance, and the class of school in which they were being taught. The Tables bearing upon this subject in detail are given in our Report (Part II). on Ages and Education; and in that upon Religious Professions and Education (Part IV). The total numbers of pupils at school in each of the provinces as taken from the several returns in 1861, were—

* Houses which have only one room for the entire family.

The figures for 1861 by counties, contrasted with those for 1851, so far as could be done, are given in Table XXIV., page xxxiv; but the comparison is incomplete, because there were not any returns of the attendance at school obtained in 1851, except on the Family Schedules, and for the week ended 12th April.

Numbers at School-age not under instruction.

Looking at the proportionate numbers in 1841, 1851, and 1861, not attending school (during the Census week) at the assumed school-ages, 5 to 15, there is exhibited some satisfactory progress, a decrease of 10 per cent. being shown between 1841 and 1861, and of 5 per cent. between 1851 and 1861.

But the numbers not at school in 1861—nearly a million, or 70 per cent., in a population of the school-age amounting to 1,334,792—although not so comparatively large as in 1851 or in 1841, is still so very great as forcibly to show how much remains to be done towards effecting an improvement in this direction. Table XXIII., page xxxiii, gives the population at each age, from 5 to 15, both inclusive, who were attending school at the time of the Census in 1841, 1851, and 1861, and the per-centage of each of these ages not attending school.

Maps.

The improvement in education is shown in Plate II.—the per-centage of the illiterate in 1841, 1851, and 1861 being represented by degrees of shading. It will be seen that the dark shades are much lighter for the latter than the former years, and that in the western districts especially a great advance has been made.

Improvement in social condition between 1841 and 1861.

We give, in Table XXV., a summary by counties, following the order of education in 1861, which shows for 1841, 1851, and 1861, the proportionate numbers who could neither read nor write; who occupied fourth-class house-accommodation; and who were dependent on their own manual labour. For all Ireland the figures show that there was a decrease in the proportion of the wholly illiterate between 1841 and 1861 of 15 per Irish-Speaking Population.

Irish only. In 1851 the proportion to the population was 23·3 per cent., so that in the decade there was a decrease of 4·2 per cent. The greatest diminution took place in Munster, which had a per-centage of 43·9 of persons speaking Irish in 1851, and only 36·3 in 1861; Connaught declined in its Irish-speaking population by 5·9 per cent. since 1851, at which time more than half the inhabitants of that province could speak their native language.

Decrease in numbers in 1861.

In Ulster the proportion of persons speaking Irish was 6·8 in every 100 in 1851, and 6· in 1861; in Leinster the per-centage was 3·5 in 1851, and 2·5 in 1861, so that the decrease was general throughout the provinces. Table XXVI., page xxxvi, gives by counties and provinces the number and proportion in 1851 and 1861 of those speaking Irish. In our Report on Ages and Education (Part II.) will be found Tables containing the number of this class in each barony and county, by ages and sexes.

Birthplaces of the People.

Of the total number of persons in this country in 1861, 468,199 who were born in Ireland did not reside in their native counties,—50,936 were natives of England and Wales,—16,925 of Scotland, and 10,420 were born in foreign countries.

British and foreign-born persons living in Ireland.

The proportion of English to the population was 0·88 per cent., of Scotch, 0·29, and of foreigners, 0·18. The number and rate per cent. of non-native inhabitants in 1841, 1851, and 1861, were :—

The greatest proportion of English were located in Leinster, in which the County of Dublin had 4·10 per cent.; Dublin City, 3·77; and Kildare, 3·93 per cent. Munster contained the next highest proportion—0·90 per cent., in which Cork City had 3·38 per cent.; Limerick City, 3·25; and Waterford City, 2·52 per cent. Ulster followed with half the proportion of Munster, the Towns of Belfast and Carrickfergus having 2·51 and 1·36 per cent. respectively. Connaught had the least relative number of English, the average being only 0·37 per cent. The per-centage in the Town of Galway was 2·05. The greatest relative proportion of Scottish-born persons was in Leinster, in which the rate in the County of Dublin amounted to 1·02 per cent., and in the City of Dublin 0·96 per cent. Ulster followed with a nearly equal proportion, the Towns of Belfast and Carrickfergus giving a rate respectively of 2·63 and 1·16 per cent. Foreigners were found in the largest relative numbers in Leinster, and in the County and City of Dublin. In Munster, the Cities of Cork, Limerick, and Waterford had the largest proportions; in Ulster, Belfast and Carrickfergus Towns; and in Connaught, the Town of Galway. Table XXVII., page xxxviii, gives the numbers of inhabitants in 1841, 1851, and 1861, who were not born in the counties where they dwelt at the time of the Census, distinguishing the Irish from the British and foreign-born population.

Irish in Great Britain and in some of her Colonies.

From the interesting and valuable Tables given in the General Report, Volume III., of the Census for England and Wales, and in those of the Census for Scotland, we are enabled to state the number of Irish-born persons residing in Great Britain, and in some of her dependencies, in 1861 (or at the latest date).

Irish in England and Wales.

There were in England and Wales at the time of the last Census 601,634 persons born in Ireland—or in the proportion of 3 to every 100 of the entire population. Of these, 580,487 resided in England, and 21,147 in Wales. Distributed according to sex there were 53,889 males and 50,629 females under twenty years of age, and 244,840 males and 252,276 females were twenty years old and upwards.

The Counties in which the largest number of Irish-born persons was living were the following :—

In the series of Tables in the English Census Report which give the statistics for other Countries, Irish-born residents (or persons) are not separately distinguished; but from the Returns here quoted the total number of Irish-born people in the United Kingdom, and in the Islands in the British Seas, at the time of the Census was 6,531,891, and in the Canadas, Australia, and other Dependencies, 419,867—making a total of 6,951,758 in the United Kingdom and in those Colonies in which the number of Irish-born was ascertained.

Condition as to Marriage.

Number and proportion of unmarried, married, and widowed.

Of the total population 17 years of age and upwards, amounting to 3,621,501 persons, 1,561,534, or 43·1 in every 100, were unmarried; 1,680,253—46·4 per cent., married; and 379,714—10·5 per cent., widowed. Compared with the Returns for 1841 and 1851, the proportion of the unmarried was less in 1841, and greater in 1851, than in 1861. Of the provinces, Leinster had the largest relative number—46·5 per cent. of bachelors and spinsters in 1861 ; Ulster was next in order, with 43·3 per cent., followed by Munster with 41·9, and Connaught with only 39· per cent. Leinster and Munster had the largest proportion of widowers and widows, and Ulster and Connaught the least.

Comparison of Irish and English Marriage Tables.

The Tables in the English and Scotch Census Reports give the numbers married, commencing with 15, viewing all under that age as unmarried. Observing the same rule, we find the proportions in each of the three countries, of unmarried, married, and widowed, to have been the following in 1861 :—

Countries.	Proportion per cent. 15 years old and upwards.
	Unmarried.	Married.	Widowed.

We give for each county, for the first time in the Irish Census, a Table similar to those published for England and Scotland, in 1851 and 1861, showing the ages of husbands and their wives in combination, of husbands whose wives were absent, and of wives whose husbands were absent, on the night of the Census. The results for all Ireland are shown in the following Table.

VITAL STATISTICS.

Sickness and Mortality.

during the decade between 1851 and 1861. Both of these subjects have been sufficiently reported upon—the first in Part III., Vol. I., of our publications, and the second in Vol. II. of the same part. We beg to refer to these publications for full details upon the status of disease and deaths in Ireland. They will be found to contain important and useful information relating to the diseases under which the Irish population —including the deaf and dumb, blind, lunatic, idiotic, and lame and decrepit—laboured on the night of the Census; and also to the deaths which occurred during the period between 1851 and 1861, classified according to the cause of death.

A summary of the number of sick is given in Table XXXI., page xlii; and of the deaths, by provinces and classes, in the following Table XXXII., and in Table XXXIII., page xliv.

In the Appendix to this Report will be found a series of Tables, showing, in proportional numbers, the results of the most important of our general Tables; and in order to allow of a comparison of the Tables of the Census published for England and Scotland, we have given the numbers for Ireland in the same form, as nearly as practicable, so far as relates to ages,—civil condition,—birthplace,—and occupations.

On a review of our labours, we venture to congratulate your Excellency on the circumstance that the results of the Census may be considered satisfactory in important respects as regards the state of the country;—in education, as exhibited by the decrease in the proportion of the illiterate and the larger attendance at schools;—in the social condition of many of the population, by the increase in the number of houses of a superior description;—in material wealth, by the considerable proportion of families having vested means and of those employed in the direction of labour; and also by the large increase in the value of live stock and in the extent of arable land since the period of the Census in 1841 and 1851, as appears by the Agricultural Statistics obtained annually by the Registrar-General.

In conclusion, it gives us much pleasure to state that during the progress of the work we received every requisite assistance from the Inspector-General of Constabulary, the Commissioners of the Metropolitan Police, and the Heads of the various public departments with whom we were brought into communication; and we found the officers and men of the Forces above mentioned, whose duty it was to conduct the inquiries throughout the country, with scarcely an exception, very satisfactory in carrying out the instructions received from us; and we are happy to add, that in this Office our efficient Secretary, in particular, and the Heads of the several Sections exerted themselves most creditably in the discharge of the important duties which devolved upon them; nor must we omit to place on record our obligations to the Metropolitan and Provincial Press, and to the Magistracy and Clergy of all denominations, for their generous and valuable aid.

We have the honour to be ———————————(Signature of Head of Family), who is also requested to sign at foot of the third Table.

P 2

Census Office, Dublin, 1861.

It is earnestly requested that the Heads of Families will see that the Answers to the several Queries contained in these Tables are distinctly and correctly given, since upon the accuracy of the answers the value of the Census must mainly depend. The information will be published in General Abstracts, only, and strict care taken that the Returns are not used for the gratification of curiosity, or any other object than perfecting the Census.

The Enumerator, on receiving the Returns, is on no account to permit them to be inspected by any person, except the Officer of the District, to whom he is instructed to deliver them without delay, in order that they may be transmitted to the Census Office. The Returns will, of course, be considered by the Officer as strictly confidential.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILLING THESE TABLES.

The Enumerator will call for this Return as soon as possible after the night of the 7th of April, when he will assist such persons as may not be able to fill it themselves. But when competent, it is requested that the Head of the Family shall fill, or cause it to be filled, immediately after the said night, in order that the Enumerator may not be delayed when he calls for it.

This Return is divided into Three Tables.

The 1st TABLE is for those persons of each Family, the Visitors, and Servants, who slept or abode in the same house on the night of Sunday, the 7th of April.

By a "Family" is meant either one person living on his or her own means of support, or several persons united under one head, and having a common means of support;—therefore when there are several Families in one house, the Enumerator will leave a separate Form for each.

Religious Profession.—To prevent errors, and in order that each individual may be correctly enumerated, under this head, it is particularly requested that Protestants, who are members of the United Church of England and Ireland shall describe themselves as of the "Established Church," that members of the Roman Catholic Church shall describe themselves as "Roman Catholics," and that Protestants of the Presbyterian Church shall use the word "Presbyterian" opposite to their respective names. Individuals belonging to any other Religious Denomination or Sect are requested to describe themselves by that particular name or title by which they are most generally known.

Occupations.—In order to arrive at a correct classification of the employments of the people, attention is requested to the following observations:—

One general principle which should be kept in mind is, that each person will be best described to whose name is annexed his or her principal means of support: thus, "Landed Proprietor,"—"House Owner,"—"Fund" or "Stock Holder,"—"Annuitant," &c., will best define the more independent classes, whose principal means are derived from any of these or similar sources.

Professions.—A person deriving his income from a profession should state its particular nature; and professional men who are occupied with other avocations, should define them. Clergymen of every religious denomination should be described according to their Rank and Station; Barristers and Attorneys, whether they practise; Medical Men, what branch of the profession they follow; Military and Naval Officers, retired from the service, should give their rank, also adding the terms "Retired Officer;" Artists to mention the particular Art which they pursue.

Merchants should state the particular trade in which they are engaged, and Shopkeepers are to observe the same rule. In reference to writing Clerks, it is desirable that the description should show the nature of the office, as "Clerk in Public Office,"—"Law Clerk,"—"Clerk in Corn Merchant's Office," &c.

Manufacturers, Tradesmen, and Apprentices.—The particular branch of Manufacture with which each is connected should be stated: thus, a weaver of silk should be distinguished from a weaver of any other kind of material, by describing him as a "Silk Weaver;" in a similar manner a "Woollen Weaver," a "Linen Weaver," &c. This rule is to be also observed with respect to every other trade: as "Brass Founder," or "Iron Founder,"—"House Carpenter," or "Ship Carpenter,"—"House Painter," or "Carriage Painter," &c.

Servants and Labourers employed in Agricultural Works should be distinguished from those occupied in other ways, by stating the particular kind of Work in which each individual is usually engaged, as "Ploughman;" "Farm Labourer;" "Drainage Labourer;" "Mason's Labourer;" "Railway Labourer," &c.; and in the case of Household Servants, by giving their particular occupations.

Education.—In addition to the elementary acquirements in the English Language asked for under this head, information is also sought for with regard to the Irish Language, in order to ascertain the localities where, and the number of persons by whom, it is now spoken.

Deaf and Dumb, or Blind.—Particular inquiry is made as to the number and condition of the Deaf and Dumb, and the Blind, in the hope that public attention may be more strongly directed to the wants of the poorer classes in Ireland who are thus afflicted. Those persons only are to be returned as Blind, who are quite deprived of sight.

The 2nd TABLE is necessary in order to ascertain the number of persons belonging to each family, whether present or absent on the night of the 7th April. The absent members, if in Ireland, will of course be accounted for in the General Enumeration for the houses where they may happen to pass that night.

The 3rd TABLE is for a Return of those persons who have Died while residing with this Family, during the last Ten years. The necessity for this is caused by the want of a General Registration of Deaths in Ireland, and consequently a defect of information for various objects useful to the community. This Table, however, will only show the Deaths which have occurred during the last Ten years in these families now living in Ireland.

Approved,
Edward Cardwell.

William Donnelly,
Registrar-General.

WILLIAM DONNELLY,
Registrar-General.

The great importance to Medical and Statistical Science of the information required by the questions asked in this Form, will, it is hoped, induce the Heads of Families to afford the Enumerators every facility in the execution of their duty, by either filling the Return themselves, or giving correct information to enable the Enumerators to do so.

The alleviation of human suffering arising from Bodily infirmity, is a work in which every Member of the Community should naturally feel an interest, and one important step in this direction is to ascertain the extent and character of the evils to be contended with; it is confidently hoped that towards these most desirable objects this Return will materially assist.

The Medical Attendants on the Sick are earnestly requested to aid the Heads of Families and the Enumerators in filling up this Table, by supplying the proper Names of the Diseases.

These Returns will be considered as strictly confidential, and will be used solely in compiling General Statistical Tables, in which numbers and classes only shall appear—individuals being entirely lost sight of.

Dated——— day of———1861.

S

CENSUS OF IRELAND, 1861.

Census Office, Dublin,
March, 1861.

Instructions for Superintendents.

I.

1. In accordance with the provisions of the Act 23° and 24° Vic., c. 62—(of which you have already received a copy with Circular No. 1)—the Constabulary and the Metropolitan Police are to be the Enumerators for the Census of 1861.

2. Superintendents will, upon receipt hereof, proceed to open the various parcels which have been in course of transmission to them from this office for some days past, and will be so good as to fill up the acknowledgment herewith sent, and to state the additional number of each Form required, if the supply already forwarded is not sufficient for the use of the Enumerators of their several Districts.

3. The Census is to be taken by townlands, parishes, baronies, and counties, according to the Boundaries laid down on the Ordnance Maps.

4. Each Constabulary District is, as far as possible, to form a Census District, and will be under the Superintendence of the Sub-Inspector, or Head Constable in charge of it.

5. A supply of the six-inch maps of the Ordnance Survey, which comprise the District of the Superintendent, will be furnished, if required, on stating the Numbers of the sheets wanted.

II.

1. The Superintendent's first duty will be to allocate to each Enumerator such a number of townlands as may be considered advisable, having due regard to their position, extent, and population,—to the number of Constabulary who can be employed,—and to the importance of the duties to be discharged.

2. The Superintendent is requested to fill the Returns marked M, with which he has been already furnished, in duplicate, for each Enumeration District, and to forward one copy to this Office without delay.

3. The Superintendent will also send a list of the names of the Constabulary whom he has nominated as Enumerators, to the County Inspector, in order that he may be aware what members of the Force are to be employed on the Census.

4. Should a change in any of these appointments become necessary, before the commencement of the work, or during its progress, a Report of the facts should be immediately sent to this Office, accompanied by a Return giving the names of the parties proposed to be substituted.

5. The Returns of Enumeration Districts are to be accompanied by a statement (on a plain sheet of foolscap paper), from the Superintendent, showing the names of the members of the Constabulary Force belonging to his District, who have not been appointed Enumerators, stating why they were not employed, in order that, if necessary, the matter may be brought under the notice of the Inspector-General.

III.

1. The duty of an Enumerator may be thus generally defined:—He will call at each house within his Enumeration District at some period during the ten days previous to Sunday the 7th day of April, next, and again during the ten days commencing Monday the 8th of April.

2 On the first occasion he will ascertain the number of families residing in each house, and leave one Form A to be filled for each family. He will likewise enter in Form B the number of the house, and the name of the head of each family residing in it, together with such other particulars as he may then be able to ascertain. Copies of Forms A and B, above referred to, have already been forwarded to the Superintendent of each District.

3. On the second occasion the Enumerator will collect the Forms A when filled, and assist such persons as may not be able to fill them. He will also verify the accuracy of his previous entries in Form B, and make such further inquiries as will enable him to complete that Return.

4. Specific Instructions will be furnished for the guidance of the Enumerators, which it will be the duty of the Superintendent to see strictly attended to.

5. The Enumerators are to be selected from the members of the Constabulary Force, with the addition, when necessary, of such members of the Coast-guard as may be required, and who have been informed by the Admiralty that their services are available for the Census Inquiries. They will be particularly suited to act as Enumerators of Shipping. In the City of Dublin and its vicinity the Metropolitan Police alone are to act as Enumerators.

6. The Enumerator should be trustworthy, active, intelligent, and able to write a fair and legible hand. It is also of importance, that he should not be liable to be removed to another District, during the short time his services will be required for the Census.

7. In those Districts where the Irish language prevails, or that many persons are to be found who do not speak English, the Enumerators selected should, if possible, be acquainted with the Irish language, in order to avoid the necessity and expense of employing Interpreters.

8. All reports made to Superintendents by the Enumerators, as to inaccuracies in the Returns (in accordance with their instructions to that effect), should be sent to the Census Office without delay.

IV.

1. Each Sub-Inspector or Head Constable who shall discharge the duties of a Superintendent on the Census, will be allowed the sum of 2*s.* 6*d.*, to cover his expenses for stationery, and also any charges for postage or carriage of parcels unavoidably incurred, the particulars of which should be clearly stated in a Form of Account, No. 3; but under vouchers in support of these charges will be required. And each member of the Constabulary Force employed as an Enumerator will be allowed the sum of 2*s.* to cover the cost of stationery, and other incidental expenses arising out of this duty, exclusive of car-hire, boat-hire, and an allowance of 1*s.* 6*d.* per night when necessarily absent for the night from his barrack. The claims for allowances for stationery, &c., are to be made on Form of Voucher, No. 1, and for nightly allowance on Form of Voucher, No. 4.

2. In conformity with the circular of the Inspector-General, of the 1st September, 1853, and the Chief Secretary's Minute of the 3rd October following,—members of the Constabulary, employed on the Census Inquiry, who may devote more than ten hours in any one day to this duty, will be entitled to an allowance of 6*d.* for every day whilst so employed, the claims for which are to be made out on Form of Account, No. 5. If the townlands to be visited are not too far from the station, it may be judicious to make this allowance for several consecutive days, instead of the nightly allowance for absence from quarters.

3. Applications for leave to employ Interpreters should state the name of the Enumerator by whom he is wanted, and the number of days for which his services will be required. Their rate of pay is not to exceed 1*s.* 4*d.* per diem, and it should be claimed on Form of Voucher, No. 2.

4. Boat-hire, car-hire, or any other extraordinary charges, should be claimed on Form of Account, No. 3, in which every detail necessary to a perfect understanding of the nature of the demand and the value of the service is to be fully stated. The authority of the Census Commissioners must be previously obtained for employing Interpreters, expenses of boat-hire, car-hire, and other charges, also for extra pay, and nightly allowances to Enumerators. Application for these expenses will therefore be made, without delay, on Form No. 6, which, when APPROVED, will be returned to the Superintendent, who will attach it to the accounts of his District, when furnishing them for payment.

5. No payment is to be made to any person on behalf of another without the permission of the Registrar-General.

6. All accounts are to be forwarded to the Census Office as soon as possible after the enumeration has been completed.

V.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FORWARDING THE RETURNS TO DUBLIN.

As soon as the Returns of a parish, or of all that portion of a parish within a Constabulary District, have been received and examined by the Superintendent, "Form O" should be filled up in duplicate, and sent in a separate Envelope to this Office. The various Returns should be carefully packed in brown paper, well secured with strong cord, and forwarded by Post, open at one end, in the same manner as they were transmitted from the Census Office. Labels for the purpose are supplied. The postage is not to be paid. In order to avoid inconvenience to the Post Office, not more than two parcels of 250 "Forms A," —with the other returns of the same locality,—in each parcel, should be forwarded from any one District on the same day, unless the Superintendent can arrange with the local Postmaster for the transmission of a larger number.

As some delay may arise in completing the Tables of the Deaths from the Records of the several Public Institutions, it is not absolutely necessary that they should be forwarded along with the other Census Returns. A reasonable time may be allowed for their completion.

Census Forms of every description, which have not been used, should be returned to this Office, carefully packed as book parcels.

WILLIAM DONNELLY,
Registrar-General.

1. I approve of the foregoing Instructions being issued to the Sub-Inspector, or Head Constable in charge of each Constabulary District, who will proceed to act thereon with as much care and expedition as possible.

2. Let a copy be sent to each County Inspector, through whom all communications relating to the appointments of Enumerators should be sent to the Census Office.

HENRY JOHN BROWNRIGG,
Inspector-General.

Approved,
THOMAS A. LARCOM.

CENSUS OF IRELAND, 1861.

Census Office, Henrietta-street, Dublin,
March, 1861.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ENUMERATORS.

1. The Enumerator should make himself well acquainted with the nature of the various questions asked in the different Forms, and carefully examine the Pattern Tables and the Instructions for filling them. He will, upon receiving the list of townlands, or streets in his District, proceed to ascertain its extent. Should he have any difficulty as to boundaries, he will refer to the Ordnance maps in his Superintendent's office, and on the 25th of March—or sooner if authorized by his Superintendent—will commence visiting the houses in his District, and leave a "Form A" for every family in each house, before the night of Saturday the 6th of April.

The Enumerator will observe that the space for the "No. ——" in each corner of the first table of Form A, is to be filled up with the same figure at each side; thus, No. 1, No. 1; No. 2, No. 2, and so on, in every Form A, beginning with "No. 1," in each Townland and Street.

FORM A.—FAMILY RETURN.

TABLE I.—1. Each of the following classes is to be regarded as one distinct family:—

A man and his wife, or man, wife, and children, living together, and having no other persons residing with them.

A family such as the above, with their servants and visitors residing with them.

Parents and children, with their visitors or lodgers, boarding at the same table, and the servants of the family.

A single lodger boarding alone, or merely residing in the house.

Two or more lodgers boarding together distinct from the family, and their servants, if any.

2. On Monday the 8th of April, the Enumerator will again commence visiting the houses in his District, and will continue to do so until he has collected the "Forms A" from every family within it. On this occasion he will see that each column in the Form is properly filled; if it is not, he will obtain the necessary information, and fill it himself. It is apprehended that he will not, within a few days after SUNDAY, the 7th of April, find it difficult to ascertain what persons slept, abode, or remained in each house on the night of that day.

3. With respect to persons travelling, or out all night, they are to be enumerated at the hotel or house at which they arrive on Monday the 8th of April; and as Clubs, Hotels, Inns, and Lodging-houses, &c., change their inmates frequently, the Enumerator should visit these establishments as soon as possible after the 7th of April. Each temporary resident, or traveller who is accompanied by any member of his family, or a servant, is to be entered on a separate "Form A." The owner, master, or steward, of any such establishment, with his family, and servants, if any, are to be returned as one distinct family.

4. Special forms for Barracks, Boarding Schools, Workhouses, Hospitals, Lunatic Asylums, Prisons, &c., are to be delivered to the Barrack-masters, Masters, Stewards, or Keepers of such houses, respectively, they being appointed Enumerators by the Census Act for the inmates of all such buildings or institutions; but the Officers of public Institutions and their families, together with the porters and nurses (unless when paupers in workhouses) are to be enumerated on "Form A."

5. Members of the Constabulary, Coast Guard, and Revenue Police, and their respective families, are also to be enumerated on "Form A."

6. The occupants of ships, vessels, or boats in port, or engaged in river or canal navigation, are to be returned according to the same rule as persons residing in houses. The Enumerators of Districts in which seamen or boatmen are to be found should collect the Returns of these Classes early on the 8th of April, lest their vessels might sail before the returns are obtained. For further instructions with respect to ships, boats, &c., see "Form B, Shipping Return."

TABLE II.—For directions with respect to filling this Table, see instructions on the back of "Form A."

TABLE III.—1. In assisting persons to fill this Table, the Enumerator will observe the period over which the inquiry extends, in order to enter with accuracy the particulars respecting the members of the family, as relatives, visiters, lodgers, or servants, &c., who have died since the 30th of March, 1851—the date of the last Census.

2. In the case of Hotels and Boarding-houses, particular inquiry should be made from the heads of such establishments, in order to ascertain the deaths which have occurred in them within the period specified in the last paragraph. In Universities and Colleges, inquiry is to be made, from the proper authorities, for the particulars of all Deaths—which are to be inserted in this Table of "Form A."—The same rule extends to Institutions for the Deaf and Dumb, Asylums for the Aged and Blind, Alms-houses, Police Stations, &c., the master or steward of such being bound by the Act to furnish the requisite information.

3. Under the head "Cause of Death," the common name of the disease is to be given, unless the scientific name be furnished upon medical authority; and among the Irish-speaking population, the Irish name by which it is generally known.

1. The Enumerator will carefully examine each Form A when he receives it, and ascertain that it has been correctly filled, and signed by the head of the family, or by some person authorized on his or her behalf. In the case of heads of families who cannot write, the Enumerator will require him or her to attach a mark (thus ×), and will witness it, having first read all the particulars stated in the Form, for his or her approval; he will also take care that no person or family within his District has been omitted from the Returns.

2. If any person has gone away from a house before full particulars were obtained, the sex and probable age may be learned, and stated as of "Person unknown," &c.

3. The Enumerator will be most particular to ascertain, especially in the case of Heads of Families who can neither read nor write, that the parties entered in Table I. of Form A actually slept, abode, or remained in the house for which the Return is made, on the night of Sunday, the 7th of April, AS THE NAME OF NO OTHER PERSON WHATEVER SHOULD BE ENTERED IN THAT TABLE.

4. The Enumerator will also observe that the head of the family is required to sign his or her name at the foot of the third as well as the first Table of Form A.

FORM B.—HOUSE AND BUILDING RETURN.

1. On the 25th March each Enumerator, if he has not done so previously, will commence filling "Form B," which is to contain the required particulars relating to each house in his District.

2. In towns where the houses are numbered, the name of the street and number of the house should be entered in the first column of "Form B;" in small towns and villages, where the houses are not numbered, and also in townlands, the numbers should be inserted according to the order in which they are visited by the Enumerator, beginning with No. 1 in "Form B" in each street or townland.

3. Every dwelling-house shall be considered as one house, which has a distinct outer door, although it may be occupied by several families living in separate apartments under the same roof. In counting the number of rooms in a house, each apartment should be reckoned as one room; thus, the cabin, within which there is no partition wall, is to be described as a house with one room; if one end of the cabin be partitioned off, and a means of communication maintained by an inner doorway, it is to be considered as a house having two rooms; if another portion of the cabin be also partitioned off in a similar manner, it is to be considered as a house having three rooms.

4. Neither uninhabited out-offices, nor houses in ruins, are to be included in this Return; but if an individual or family live in an out-office or any public building, it is to be considered as an inhabited house; and the number of rooms occupied by such individual or family should be entered on the Form.

5. In houses where the ground story is used as a shop, if it be vacant, and the remainder of the house, or any portion of it, occupied, the entry in Column 6 should be, "Inhabited; Shop vacant."

6. A distinction is to be drawn between houses occupied by one or more families as owners or tenants, and houses merely in charge of a caretaker; in this latter case the entry in Column 6 should be "Inhabited by a Caretaker."

7. Wherever a school is held in any part of a house, it should be noted in Column 5.

8. Particular care should be taken to specify all houses now in progress of "building."

On the occasion of his second visit, the Enumerator will be able to remedy any errors in "Form B," which, on examination, he may find to exist in his previous entries.

FORM B.—SHIPPING RETURN.

1. The instructions with respect to Forms A, and B, and to C, are applicable to the enumeration of ships and boats of every kind, and their crews and passengers—"Form B, Ship Return," being analogous to the Form B for houses and buildings.

2. The Enumerator will leave one or more copies of "Form A" with the person in charge of each vessel, previous to the night of Sunday, the 7th of April. Upon these Forms are to be entered the names, &c., &c., of the captain and crew; but when the captain, master, or any head of a family on board is accompanied by his wife or family, they are to be enumerated on a separate "Form A." When leaving these Forms, the Enumerator is to make the necessary entries respecting the vessel and its occupants in "Form B, Ship Return," which entries he can verify and complete when collecting the "Forms A."

3. When leaving "Form A," the Enumerator is to enter the Registered Number of the vessel upon the back of the Form; but where boats or vessels have no such number, he is to enumerate them consecutively, making the indorsement on "Form A" correspond with the number instead of the register in "Form B, Ship Return."

4. The Enumerator will commence on the 25th of March to fill "Form B, Ship Return;" and will also cause "Form A" to be filled for all vessels going to sea on the 7th of April,—all the passengers and entire crew of which are to be enumerated on that Form; but where vessels remain in port up to the morning of the 8th of April, only those persons who slept on board are to be entered upon it, as the other persons belonging to the ship will have been enumerated on shore. Vessels seeking temporary shelter in harbour from stress of weather, within the period above stated, unless they happen to be there on the night of the 7th of April, ought not to be enumerated.

5. All ships, coasting vessels, and fishing or other boats, which arrive in port on the 8th of April and during the entire of the following week, are to be enumerated in the same manner as vessels in port on the night of the 7th of April; provided such ships or boats shall not have been previously enumerated at any other port; to ascertain which inquiry should be made.

FORM C.—SICK RETURN.

When collecting "Form A," the Enumerator is to inquire as to all persons labouring under sickness; and in houses where any one was ill on the 7th of April, and the inmates are capable of filling it, he is to present "Form C," with a respectful request to have it filled by the Head of the Family, if possible, at the moment. Should it not be convenient to the family to fill this form at the time of his visit, he will leave it; and having made this mark (×) in the 13th Column of "Form B," in order to guide him in collecting these Forms afterwards, he will call for it again as soon as convenient. But when the inmates cannot do so, he will fill up "Form C" for them. It is to be distinctly understood that sick persons are also to be enumerated in the 1st Table of "Form A."

FORM D.—FOR LUNATICS AND IDIOTS.

It is expected that the local knowledge of the Enumerators with regard to Lunatics and Idiots, for whom this Return is intended, will enable them to fill this Form with accuracy, especially with reference to mendicants and vagrants who are thus afflicted. Where Idiots or Lunatics are in the custody of their friends, the inquiries necessary to fill this Form should be made with the greatest delicacy. All these persons will of course have been enumerated upon "Form A," at their respective places of abode, on the night of the 7th of April.

FORM E.—FOR WORKHOUSES:—THREE TABLES.

The Enumerator will leave the requisite number of these Tables at each Workhouse, Auxiliary Workhouse, and Workhouse Hospital within his District, before the 7th of April, and at the same time call the attention of the Masters, or Stewards of these Institutions, to the section of the Act of Parliament printed at foot of the Form. He will remark to the Masters that sick persons enumerated in Table 2 of this Form are to be also included in Table 1. The deaths which occurred in temporary Hospitals in connexion with Workhouses are likewise to be enumerated by the Masters on Table 3 of this Form.

FORM F.—HOSPITAL RETURN:—TWO TABLES.

The required number of these Tables is to be distributed at all such Charitable Institutions as General and Fever Hospitals, Infirmaries, Lying-in, and other special Hospitals, and wherever persons are admitted for in-door treatment. The resident officers of all such Institutions—not being Heads of Families—house-pupils, and servants, &c., are to be enumerated on Form A, by the resident head of the establishment.

FORM G.—COLLEGE AND SCHOOL RETURN.

Colleges, Seminaries, and Boarding-schools—and all educational establishments in which the pupils reside—are to be supplied with this Form, and also with "Form C" when necessary. The deaths which may have occurred in such Institutions since the 30th of March, 1851, are to be returned on the third Table of "Form A," for which purpose a sufficient number of that Form is to be furnished to the head or Registrar of the School or College.

FORM H.—BARRACK RETURN.

This Form is intended for barracks, or other buildings where military parties may be stationed at the time. Where Hospitals exist within the precincts of these establishments, the Barrack-Master is to be supplied with the necessary number of Tables 1 and 2 of "Form F;" but soldiers in Hospital are also to be accounted for on "Form H." All married officers, non-commissioned officers, and soldiers, are likewise to be enumerated with their families on "Form A," and when necessary, supplied with "Form C;" and also the permanent officials belonging to, or residing within, all Military Barracks, as Barrack-Masters, Barrack-Sergeants, and Canteen-keepers, &c., with their servants.

FORM I.—FOR LUNATIC ASYLUMS:—TWO TABLES.

All Lunatic Asylums of both a public and private nature are to be supplied with these Tables; and as Lunatics are frequently confined in Gaols, one or more of each Table is also to be left with the Governor of every Prison where necessary, and these are afterwards to be attached to the "Form K" belonging to such Prison.

FORM K.—GAOL RETURNS.

This Form is intended for all Prisons, Bridewells, and Penitentiaries; such establishments are likewise to be supplied with Tables 1 and 2 of "Form F" for their Hospitals; but the persons enumerated on these latter are also to be entered in "Form K." The officers and servants of the establishments, with their families, are to be enumerated on "Form A."

FORM L.—RETURN OF PUPILS RECEIVING INSTRUCTION AT ALL PUBLIC AND PRIVATE SCHOOLS, SEMINARIES, COLLEGES, ACADEMIES, AND LITERARY INSTITUTIONS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

This Table is prepared with the view of ascertaining the TOTAL NUMBER of persons of all ages and classes who were attending school or receiving instruction at any of the Educational Establishments throughout Ireland, during the week ending Saturday, the 13th of April, 1861. The Heads of such Institutions should be respectfully requested to fill this Form, and at the same time to observe, that it is not all the names on the Roll of the School which are required, but only the names of those Pupils who were in attendance during any part of the week specified. Schools within Workhouses and Gaols are also to be included in this Inquiry. Should his local knowledge not be sufficient, the Enumerator will, by referring to "Form B," learn where to leave "Form L," which should be distributed as soon as convenient before the 13th of April; the Enumerator, however, is not to detain the other Returns of the Census for the completion of this Educational Inquiry.

FORM M—is to contain the names of the Townlands or Streets in the district of the Enumerator.

FORM N.—AFFIRMATION OF THE RETURNS BY THE ENUMERATORS.

Each separate Form must be signed by the Enumerator; but it having been represented that it might be difficult to find Magistrates willing to give so much time as would be necessary to affirm each Family Return separately, a Form of Affirmation, marked "N," has been prepared, which will include in one Declaration the entire Returns from each Enumerator. Superintendents should cause one of these Forms, when accurately filled up by each Enumerator for his own District, to be affirmed by him before a Magistrate, and forwarded to this office.

MAKING UP THE RETURNS.

1. In rural Districts there should be one or more Returns according to "Form B" for every Townland, and the A and B Returns for each Townland are to be carefully stitched together when completed.

2. In corporate Towns the Municipal boundary is to be taken as the boundary of the Town, and the name of the municipal ward as well as the street in which each family resides, is to be entered on "Form A." In all cases where a village contains more than twenty houses, the A and B Returns for it are to be made up into a separate file. When a village does not consist of more than twenty houses, it is not to be noticed separately as a town, but the houses will be treated as others dispersed over a townland.

3. In towns which consist of more than four or five streets, there is to be one "Form B" for every street; and the A and B Returns for each street are to be stitched together, and all the Returns for the town put up in one parcel; in those cases, however, in which a street is in different parishes, separate files should be made up for the portion in each parish.

4. If any town or village be partly in one parish or barony, and partly in another, separate files for each portion should be made up. This rule is to be observed, in order that the Returns may be more readily abstracted in the Census Office, according to parishes and baronies.

5. Care must always be taken to make a distinct file for the rural portion of each townland apart from the town portion, in order to distinguish between the town and rural population.

6. In making up the "Forms A," they are to be arranged in numerical order, placing the "Form B" for the locality, at the top, and the "ENUMERATOR'S ABSTRACT," showing the number of houses, families, persons, and religious profession of parties, in front of the file.

7. On obtaining several Forms from public Institutions, the Enumerator will stitch them carefully together, placing an "Abstract" in front, as in the case of the "A" and "B" Forms.

8. As soon as Form A, and the various other returns are collected they are to be handed over by the Enumerator to the Superintendent of the District for examination, who is alone authorized to inspect them previous to their transmission to the Census Office.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS.

If the Enumerator finds that he requires an additional supply of printed Forms, and that he cannot conveniently procure them from his Superintendent, or any Enumerator in his neighbourhood, he will, in order to save time, apply for them direct by post to the "Census Office, Dublin," stating the number and letter of the additional printed Forms which he wants, and the post-town to which they are to be forwarded. No expense whatever should be incurred by the Enumerator without express authority from the Census Office, obtained through his Superintendent.

In carrying the foregoing Instructions into effect, the Enumerators will take care to observe the utmost civility; asking for the necessary information with courtesy and good feeling. Almost all persons, at first, view inquiries respecting themselves, their families, or their circumstances, with suspicion, in proportion to their want of knowledge of the results sought to be obtained by the Inquiries, and there are comparatively but few persons so fully acquainted with the objects of a Census as to enable them to understand of what advantage it can be to the State to possess minute information as to the social condition of any member of the community; yet it is information of this character, when shaped into classified Returns, which forms the best guide to the Legislator and the Philanthropist in their efforts to elevate the condition of mankind. If the Enumerator finds his progress obstructed by any difficulties of the kind referred to, he should state them to the more enlightened and influential persons in his District, and respectfully solicit their aid in removing them.

Should any instance unfortunately occur in which every effort to obtain the necessary information shall prove unsuccessful, or in which, to the Enumerator's knowledge, the Forms have been incorrectly filled in any particular whatever, he will, without delay, make a detailed report of all the circumstances to the Superintendent of his District, who will forward it, together with his opinion thereon, to the Census Office, stating whether he considers that under the circumstances a prosecution would be advisable; but in no case is a prosecution to be undertaken, under the provisions of the Census Act, 23 & 24 Vic., cap. 62, without express authority from the Census Office.

WILLIAM DONNELLY,
Registrar-General.

We approve of the foregoing Instructions being issued to the Constabulary and Metropolitan Police. County and Sub-Inspectors will select, as far as possible, the most intelligent men in their respective districts to act as Enumerators, and will also afford every aid in their power to carry out the Census Inquiries.

CIRCULARS.

Census Office, Henrietta-street, Dublin,
March 9, 1861.

SIR,

I beg to send you annexed the copy of a letter from the Admiralty to Sir Thomas Larcom, authorizing the employment of the Coast Guard as Enumerators on the Census of Ireland, and have to request you will be so good as to communicate with the Sub-Inspector of Constabulary in your district, who will afford you all necessary information, with a view to the employment of the men under your command, upon the duty referred to.

I also enclose a copy of instructions addressed to the Sub-Inspectors of Constabulary throughout Ireland, who are to act as Superintendents of the Census in their several districts; and I would take the liberty of observing that I feel confident you will afford those officers every assistance in your power in the discharge of that important duty.

I am, sir, your faithful servant,
WILLIAM DONNELLY, Registrar-General, Chief Commissioner.

Admiralty, February 11, 1861.

SIR,

Having laid before my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty your letter of the 8th inst., conveying the request of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland that the same assistance may be given by the Coast Guard Force in Ireland in carrying out the forthcoming Census, as was done upon the occasion of the Census of 1851, I am commanded by my Lords to acquaint you, for His Excellency's information, that orders have been given for such assistance to be rendered.

I am, sir, your most obedient servant,
(Signed,) W. G. ROMAINE.

Major-General Sir Thomas A. Larcom, K.C.B.,
Dublin Castle.

SHIPPING.

Census Office, Henrietta-street, Dublin,
March 25, 1861.

I request you will be so good as to furnish each Enumerator of Shipping, acting under the orders of the Board of Customs, who has received a supply of forms and instructions from the Census Office in London, respecting the enumeration of persons on ship-board, on the night of Sunday, the 7th of April, with copies of the Forms "A" and "B Shipping" Returns, already sent to you from this office, in order that both these forms may be filled by that Enumerator at the same time with the forms received from the Census Office, London.

This course has become necessary in consequence of the "Forms" to be used in this country, under the provisions of the Irish Census Act, containing inquiries as to the "religious profession," and "education" of all persons, which are not required by the forms issued from the English Census Office.

The returns delivered to you on the English and Irish forms should be carefully made up in separate files for each enumeration district, previous to their transmission to this office.

WILLIAM DONNELLY, Registrar-General, Chief Commissioner.

SCHOOLS.

Census Office, Henrietta-street, Dublin, May 10, 1861.

Herewith you will receive forms for the purpose of taking a second School Census, for the reasons stated in the enclosed memorandum.

The forms should be distributed to the schoolmasters or heads of educational establishments in each enumeration district as soon as possible, and Form L No. 2 called for, as far as practicable, during the school hours of Friday, the 17th instant,—the enumerator verifying the return at the time he receives it, as far as circumstances will permit.

By order of the Commissioners,

HENRY WILKIE, Secretary.

The Sub-Inspector at ———

Approved,

HENRY JOHN BROWNRIGG, Inspector-General.

Census Office, Henrietta-street, Dublin, May 10, 1861.

The Census Commissioners beg to inform the heads of the various educational bodies, and all persons interested in the progress of education in Ireland, that in consequence of a representation having been made, that the School Census taken for the week which ended 13th April, 1861, was collected at an unfavourable period, they brought the circumstance under the consideration of the Lord Lieutenant, and have been authorized by His Excellency to take a second School Census—to consist of an enumeration of all the children in absolute attendance at each school in Ireland, on Friday, the 17th instant. The Commissioners, therefore, solicit the co-operation of the clergy of all denominations, and of the proprietors of schools and educational establishments, in securing an accurate return to this inquiry.

WILLIAM R. WILDE, GEORGE W. ABRAHAM, } Assistant Commissioners.

HENRY WILKIE, Secretary.

Census Office, Henrietta-street, Dublin, March 30, 1861.

SIR,

MY attention having been called to several articles and letters that have lately appeared in various newspapers, which are calculated to convey an erroneous impression that the Census Returns, when obtained by the Constabulary and Metropolitan Police—who act as Enumerators—are to be submitted for general inspection in each district, especially in reference to the inquiry under the head of "RELIGIOUS PROFESSION," I trust that, on public grounds, you will pardon the liberty I take in soliciting an EARLY place in your influential journal for the following observations on this important subject:—

I beg to enclose a copy of the Form (A) to be used for the family return, one of which will be left by the Enumerators at every house in Ireland, previous to Sunday, the 7th of April—the day fixed for taking the Census being Monday, the 8th of April. In this form is a column which is intended to contain (after his or her name) the "Religious Profession" of each individual in every family throughout the country. I would ask attention, not only to the three tables of the form, but also to the "Instructions" for filling them, and to the "Pattern Tables," printed on the back of the form.

I trust it will be seen that every care has been taken in the construction of the form to secure, as far as possible, accuracy in the enumeration of persons of every religious denomination, as well as in the other important subjects of inquiry. It will be observed that the head of each family is made responsible for the truth of the returns, being required to sign his or her name at the foot of the FIRST and THIRD table, after the words "I believe the foregoing to be a true return." With regard the heads of families who cannot write, the Enumerator is directed by his instructions (see copy enclosed, page 6), to make all due inquiry in order to insure accuracy in the returns,—also to obtain the "Mark" of the head of the family, and to witness it.

From the instructions on the back of the form itself, it will be learned that, after receiving the returns, the Enumerator is on no account to permit them to be inspected by any person except the officer of his district, by whom, as well as by the Enumerator, they are to be considered as "CONFIDENTIAL." The reasons and necessity for this precaution are so obvious, when the delicate nature of the various inquiries—as to "Age," "Education," &c., is considered, that I shall not trouble you by dwelling upon them. If, however, the head of a family wishes to show the return concerning the members of his own household to any person, BEFORE GIVING IT TO THE ENUMERATOR, he is, of course, at liberty to do so; but once the returns are handed to the Enumerator, they are to be considered as "STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL," and, when deposited in this office, will be used only in the compilation of the Reports and General Tables of the Census.

There is another point on which I beg to offer some observations:—It is sometimes said by querulous old bachelors that the ages of the ladies are not always as accurately given in the Census Returns as they should be. Having had the honour in 1851, as at present, to be appointed Chief Commissioner, I feel it to be my duty to state that the only trouble experienced in 1851, on the subject of AGE, was from certain elderly gentlemen, who obstinately refused to fill up the column headed "Age last Birth-day," until they were informed by letter that if the particulars required by the Census Act were not given, the penalty of £5 imposed by that Act would be inflicted; NOT ONE SOLITARY CASE, however, of a similar kind occurred among the whole female population of Ireland, which, I beg very respectfully to say, was most creditable to their good sense; and I have no doubt but that the ladies of Erin, of every rank, will now again, in 1861, also afford the same example of accuracy, in full reliance that their generous confidence in aiding to carry out successfully that great national undertaking, the decennial Census of their country, will be most faithfully respected, and nothing whatever be disclosed, or published, except in those general abstracts in which everything relating to individuals is altogether lost sight of.

And here I beg to observe, it is because these returns are treated as "CONFIDENTIAL," that the people of this country so readily afford the required information on all occasions of the various statistical inquiries which have now been carried on for many years; and it is this same feeling of confidence, together with the continued and valuable aid of the nobility, gentry, and clergy of all denominations, and of the public press, which will, I am convinced, render the Census of 1861 as successful and creditable to the intelligence of all classes in Ireland, as similar inquiries have hitherto done.

I beg to apologize for the length of this letter, but the general interest taken in the approaching Census, and your ever courteous attention to my official communications will, I trust, plead my excuse for addressing you.

I remain, sir, your faithful servant,

WILLIAM DONNELLY, Registrar-General, Chief Commissioner.
